Fun facts about Sapphires (September birthstone)

- 1 Sapphires have been treasured for thousands of years, including by the ancient Romans.
- 2 Rich blue sapphires are the best known, but they also come in pink, yellow, orange and green. Red sapphires are... rubies (both are varieties of the mineral corundum).
- 3 Sapphires get their colours from trace elements: blue when corundum contains iron and titanium, pink when it contains chromium, yellow from ferric iron.
- 4 The rarest type of sapphire is a 80:20% pinkish orange variety called padparadscha, the Sanskrit word for lotus flower.
- 5 The word sapphire could derive from the Greek word sappheiros, the Hebrew word "safir" or the Latin word "sapphirus" meaning blue stone.
- 6 Sapphires are among the most durable naturally occurring elements in the world - the only natural item that can scratch a sapphire is a diamond.
- 7 Because of this hardness, sapphire also has industrial uses. The Apple Watch features lab-created sapphire glass in its screen.

8 Sapphires are found in Australia, Malawi, Madagascar, Sri Lanka, the US.

9 In ancient times it was believed that sapphires protected their wearers from evil. They can symbolise nobility & faithfulness.

10 Deep blue sapphires have long been associated with royalty - particularly Princess Diana's engagement ring. Medieval kings believed that sapphires protected them from enemies.
